To run the index, execute one of the following commands:

```
lein run test_document.txt
```

```
./run.sh
```

The arguments supplied to this program should follow this pattern:

```
lein run document [query-term [operator query-term]]
```

Each line in the document should start with "Doc #" where the number is a unique id. Following the id should be the normalized contents of the document.